Gabriele Riedmann de Trinidad
SVP Strategic Area Energy
Deutsche Telekom

Gabriele Riedmann de Trinidad heads Deutsche Telekom's Strategic Area Energy. Prior to joining Deutsche Telekom as SVP in August 2010, she headed the Advanced Metering Service unit of Landis + Gyr, a leading metering company, in Switzerland. Before Landis+Gyr, she spent 16 years with Siemens and Nokia Siemens Networks in various countries – including Germany, Mexico and Indonesia. She held a number of management positions focused on launching and heading international projects in the area of telecommunications networks. She holds a master's degree in Electrical Engineering.